Let's take a closer look...

Key Benefits

Cloud Based Solution

Worried about your system crashing when creating a binder? Unlike traditional applications, our solution utilizes the cloud allowing you to work on binders of any size, at anytime, anywhere. With no limits, no downtime, and no maintenance, Bundledocs can be integrated with a range of third-party collaborators to give our users the best experience.

Efficient

Our timesaving technology enables our users to save time by eliminating effort spent on creating, organizing and managing large complex physical or digital bundles and binders.

Easy to Use

With an intuitive modern responsive design, Bundledocs is designed to enhance your user experience and increase productivity.

Key Features

Large Bundles Prepared Without Issue

Using a cloud service with ecstatic and scalable resourcing, guarantees no stalling, no crashing and no issues - regardless of binder size.

Templates

Save time by using our fully customizable templates that can uniquely address each practice group or courts requirements, including numbering, pagination, styles and layout. You can even add document dates as part of your index to provide both chronological and alphabetical one-click sorting. With the ability to amend, if necessary, our templates make complex tasks easy.

Court Compliance

Bundledocs is designed to create court-ready legal briefs quickly and easily. There is no need to waste valuable time or outsource your tasks. Our solution has everything that your legal team needs in one place, ensuring that you no longer need to purchase additional solutions.

Manipulation

Bundledocs offers 'in-browser' PDF editing and manipulating as standard. Need to combine or split documents? Re-order, delete, or rotate individual pages? Apply annotations and redactions? If you need to make a change, Bundledocs handles last minute changes and late inserts with ease allowing you to create your unique binder.

Secure Collaboration

Securely share e-binders of any size with colleagues, the other side or the courts. Alternatively invite internal or external parties to collaborate in real time. Bundledocs does it all – with less paper!

Automatic Conversion to PDF & OCR

Bundledocs will automatically combine all your documents, regardless of source, into a single PDF file. With our powerful OCR, you can make any binder fully searchable with the click of a button.

Integrity in Cross-Referencing

Create hyperlinks easily across your binder with internal or external links. Our word-add provides 'in-vision' binder access which allows for high levels of productivity when it comes to cross-referencing throughout your binder.

Integrations

Bundledocs is so flexible that it can integrate with cloud-based solutions or local on-premises solutions. Our open API makes creating integrations quick and easy, providing you with a connector to help make your integration dreams a reality. Our development team are on hand to help you every step of the way.

We integrate with most leading CMS and DMS providers. Check out some of our partners below:

PDF Editor

Bundledocs Editor is an entirely new app designed for manipulating, annotating, and sharing documents all from within your web browser. Simply drag and drop your documents into Bundledocs Editor to make changes. Once completed you can download or share directly with any third party. Everything is possible when you are using our solutions document manipulation and annotation tools within the Bundledocs Editor.

Key Features

Combine & Split Multiple Documents

With the Bundledocs Editor, you can merge and combine multiple documents to create one singular file. Need to split documents? Our powerful split feature instantly split your file into separate documents.

PDF Manipulation

Looking to manipulate your documents to meet court requirements? Our Rotate feature allows you to easily rotate individual or multiple pages of any uploaded document. If you need to re-align your binder, use the DeSkew feature which is great for those that work with scanned documents that may have been scanned in or appear slightly off centre. Even delete if needed.

Redact & Annotate

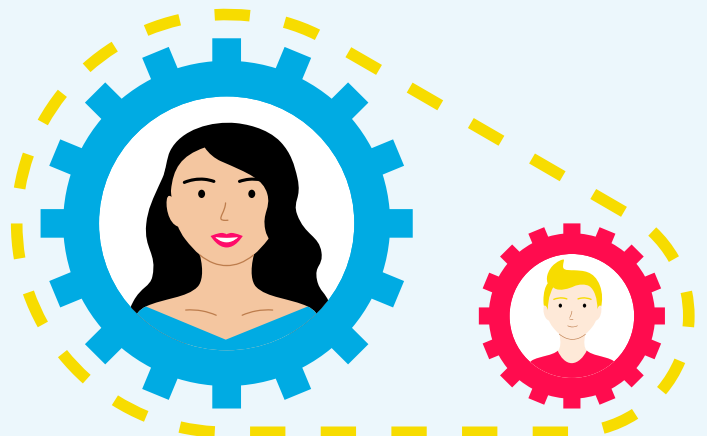

Quickly and easily apply redactions directly onto any document. This will allow you to completely remove sensitive data before sharing or printing your bundle. With our suite of annotations, you can instantly apply notes, highlights, labels, and signatures with ease.

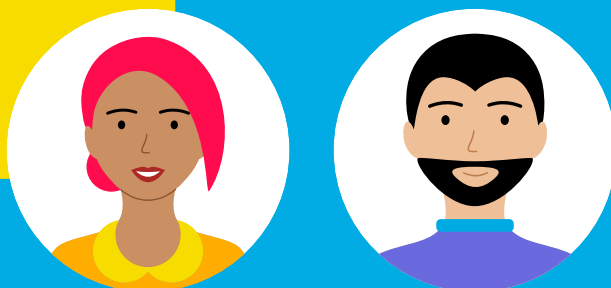

OCR Individual Document

You can apply OCR (across multiple languages) to an individual document from within the PDF Editor, making your document fully searchable.

Text Editing

Need to amend the text within your document? Our solution allows you to edit text at any time, as well as copying and pasting additional information seamlessly without affecting formatting.

Testimonials

With Bundledocs, it's all taken care of. You can create templates and cover pages to suit the firm's house style – and get some really good-looking bundles very quickly... What's more, because it has a redaction tool built in, you can set up sight limits for certain parties. For example, being able to share a binder without sensitive or confidential data visible to the law firm – they can't modify it and will only see the bits that they're privileged to.

Peter Carr, Head of IT and Partner, Fisher Jones Greenwood LLP

The support provided by Bundledocs was crucial at a very challenging time in the transition from paper bundles to electronic bundles, and at an accelerated pace due to the pandemic. The Bundledocs team is hugely supportive, putting us as a business first. They helped us with everything from start to finish providing excellent technical assistance. Bundledocs training videos were also very useful for the team of lawyers and staff here.

Maxine Jayes, Business Analyst, Stowe Family Law LLP

Bundledocs just ticks all the boxes – it works really well, the user interface is nice and simple to use, it's all web-based, and the users like it as it's feature-rich and it can do everything they need to do.

Andrew Anthony, IT Applications Manager, Mills & Reeve LLP
